

Mino

Live on stage – Mino’s visual performance stands out as one of the very few trance artists to feature live drumming. His live repertoire features the most popular tracks from his albums “Fly”; “Metallic Universe” and most recent releases. With his unique electronic drums set-up and a laptop Mino deliver a full on twisted symphony of rhythms, deep pulsating bass lines and hypnotic effects that keeps the dance floor jumping till the end.

Mino has played drums for over 20 years. In 1985 he moved from Israel to Denmark to establish his music career playing drums and freelancing in different projects from acid jazz with his band “Pass The Butter” where he toured with Fred Wesley (James Brown’s trombonist), to established trance names such as Astral Projection, Elysium, Orion (Jean Borelli), and DJ Sangeet.

Over the last couple of years Mino has worked very hard both in the studio and on the stage with his energetic live show at international trance events. This work has made him a highly acclaimed artist among his loyal fans and the international press.

It is fair to say that his background as a very talented drummer has shown its effect in his present success as a recording artist and as a live artist making his unique live show, a welcome break from the traditional trance appearances.

The past year Mino has worked intensively creating nine new deep and pulsating tracks with very strong percussive patterns and atmospheric sounds and plans to continue to explore the electronic music universe and keep searching for new sides in his constant growing multi talent.
